"OCEANS"

COLLECTION 2022

Théo™'s baby furniture is safe, comfortable and environmentally-friendly. Théo's furniture is made of wood, a material offered to us by nature, but also of rattan for this 2022 collection. Théo uses rattan naturally, in webbing or braiding. To further protect nature, Théo exclusively uses water-based paints and varnishes. Packaging is entirely made from cardboard, not a single piece of plastic is used.

Furniture and colours presented in this catalogue may slightly vary from commercialised versions. Technical information of the furniture may evolve and Théo™ reserves the right to modify its products anytime.

THÉO DEDICATES THIS CATALOGUE TO OCEANS: OUR COLLECTIVE RESPONSIBILITY IS TO ENSURE THAT WHAT WE CONSUME DOES NOT END UP IN RIVERS, SEAS OR OCEANS!

RATTAN

Since its 2021 collection, Théo has introduced natural rattan: in rattan pole, webbing or braiding.

Rattan is a natural plant from South-East Asia, produced by different fast-growing palm species. It can be fine and thornless or thick, long, very thorny with large leaves.

Resistant to shocks and rot, light and flexible, rattan is used for indoor and outdoor furniture, and allows for braiding.

WHY IS RATTAN SUSTAINABLE?

It grows 7 times faster than a tree, and each liana can measure up to 200 metres. Useful and growing like weeds, rattan is a sustainable fiber and its existence is not threatened.

A beautiful rattan pole needs a longer time to grow: 20 to 30 years to reach maturity.

Rattan cutting is done by hand and the liana base is replanted, in order to grow again. Once cut, the liana is divided in several parts: the stem is sorted by thickness and the skin is reserved for braiding.

Rattan enables local populations to inhabit tropical forests where it grows, hereby encouraging the preservation of the ecosystem; it is an alternative to the intensive exploitation of these forests.

THÉO'S COMMITMENTS

SINCE 1ST JANUARY 2020,
ALL PRODUCTS LEAVING OUR WORKSHOP ARE 100% BIODEGRADABLE

WOOD

Théo uses wood from sustainably managed forests. White Australian Cedar (melia azedarach, margousier) is as strong as oak, resistant to insects and fungus, has a fast growing rate, and its leaves have medicinal properties that are beneficial to health.

In order to ensure that our impact on forests is positive, we create a nursery of White Cedar trees, and for each cubic-meter of wood that we use in our furniture, we will plant an other tree ourselves, thereby guaranteeing and controlling the tree management.

MDF

MDF used by Théo is made of sustainably-grown rubber tree. Théo has chosen to use carb-P2 with American standards because it contains a very low level of formaldehyde: 4,1mg/100g (tested by an independant laboratory), which is much lower than European E1 standards (maximum 8mg/100g).

WATER-BASED FINISHINGS

Théo uses a water-based paint, without solvent or smell, non toxic. Baby is protected, as well as his family and Earth.

Thanks to the quality of its materials, Théo has obtained the LABEL A of air quality (ISO 16000 used in French housing, tests done by an independant laboratory).

RATTAN

Useful and prolific, rattan is a sustainable fiber which existence is not threatened. Rattan enables local populations to inhabit rainforests where it grows, keeping the ecosystem alive and providing an alternative to high-level exploitation of these forests.

ÉCO-FURNITURE

Écomobilier For each piece of furniture sold in France, Théo contributes towards Eco-Mobilier, to recycle end-of-life furniture. www.eco-mobilier.fr

Member reference: FR 027060

TRIMAN

 Théo's furniture (as well as the packaging the furniture is delivered in) is recyclable and subject to recycling instructions.

FRENCH CREATIONS

Théo is a French brand distributed in Europe and Asia, which greatly contributes to spreading French culture and style, along with the aim of quality and sustainability.

SAFETY

Our beds, chests of drawers and changing boxes are tested by an independant French laboratory (Laboratoires Pourquery), in order to ensure they comply with French and European standards on children's safety: Beds NF EN 716 (2018), Changing Box (with chest of drawers and bed) NF EN 12221+A1 (2013).

THÉO'S TEAM

Théo is the story of 3 French entrepreneurs who settled in Asia between the 80's and 2000s. After several decades of pursuing individual business ventures in commerce, wood and furniture, they met and created the Théo Bébé brand in 2014 (which used to exist in a different form in France since 1999).

They also took over and energised a small manufacturing workshop located in Indonesia, specialised in the production of furniture for babies, and which now has quality and reliability as its motto.

In order to preserve the original spirit of the brand, all the associates are French. Located in France and around the world, Théo promotes French style and culture internationally.
